Recorder Festival 2012

with Helen MacGregor

This festival will be the celebration of year-long Key Stage Two Wider Opportunities projects for whole class beginners who have been learning descant recorder and will fulfil the DES guidance on use of the music grant 1:11. This is an ideal project for music co-ordinators, class teachers and Teaching Assistants who provide Wider Opportunities teaching.

All participating schools will be expected to attend a training session with Helen MacGregor from 4:15pm - 5:30pm on Wednesday November 16th 2011 at All Saints church. Please bring a recorder and copy of Red Hot tutor book with you to the meeting. The programme will include some new items this year!

The Red Hot Recorder tutor book by Sarah Watts, Kevin Mayhew publications, will be used for shared material.

Please complete the information requested at the end of this form, take a copy of both sides of the form and return the original to Lionel Marchant at the address shown above. Sufficient copies of the form should be made so that each teacher and TA accompanying the children to the Festival has a copy. The cost of the Festival will be £30.00 for each participating school. Please send a cheque for that amount payable to All Saints with St. Philip Fee Account when you return the application form.

As part of our Child Protection policy schools are asked to ensure that all teachers and TAs accompanying the children wear their school ID badge where it can be easily seen.

Schools are invited to publicise these Festivals to parents and friends and ask them to come to the performance at 1.30pm. The cost of entry for parents and friends will be £2.00 per person (accompanied children free) with a collection taken at the end of the Festival for Demelza House Children's Hospice.

You need to be aware that events in All Saints church are public events and might attract the attention of the media. Therefore photographs might be taken and video recordings made.
